LIST OF ATTENDEES

GIFT EXCHANGE INFORMATION

The Gift Exchange began at G4G1 with Scott Kim assembling a collection of papers by participants and presenting them to Martin Gardner. The exchange is a tribute to the shared curiosity that Martin fueled and we place special emphasis on creativity and originality. The gift should be something you think Martin would have liked.

Exchange Gifts not shipped in advance should be dropped off when you sign-in. Exchange gifts will not be accepted after 7 PM on Thursday, April 7th.

Rules of the Exchange:

For complete outline of the gift exchange details, visit:

www.gathering4gardner.org/gift-exchange-details

To receive other people's gifts, you must give one yourself or as a team (to all participants). Two people presenting one gift may receive two gift bags if you provide both names when you deliver your gifts. The organizers are the final arbiters of the exchange.

G4G14 Physical Exchange Gifts:

Physical exchanges (e.g., puzzles, models, artwork, etc.) can be picked up at the Gathering on the Ground Floor, Georgian Room, starting on Friday at 10 PM (for attendees leaving early) and continuing on Saturday and Sunday. Submissions must be received by 7 PM on Thursday, April 7th to ensure inclusion. It is your responsibility to get your exchange to the conference organizers on time.

G4G14 Exchange Book:

The Exchange Book is for those who wish to submit papers as their exchange gift and also for those who wish to include descriptions, instructions, and/or solutions, to go with their physical gifts. The exchange book will be published on the G4G website. Physical printing of the book is TBD. Updates will be announced through G4G's email newsletter and on the website.

Your submission to the G4G14 Exchange Book grants Gathering 4 Gardner copyright permission to reprint the submission only in bound complete volumes, and not as individual articles. The book will also be published on the G4G website with permission from the contributing authors (any papers not granted permission will still appear in the print version of the book but will be excluded from the online version).

All submissions MUST be confirmed by the organizers by 7 PM on Thursday, April 7th to participate in the exchange. However, the deadline for submitting final papers for the G4G14 Exchange Book is yet to be determined. We will notify everyone who participated in the Gift Exchange of the deadline via email.

Submission of Files:

Files can be uploaded through the G4G14 registration website: www.conftool.com/g4g14 (Login and click on "Your Submissions").

G4G Collegiality Statement

G4G is a gathering of people of all ages from many disciplines with different interests. However, we all have one thing in common and that is our love of Martin Gardner and his legacy which we are here to celebrate. We are here to share our ideas and learn about yours. We are here to see old friends and make new ones and to have a great time!

Some of us have been to all of the Gatherings and some of us are here for the first time. So, here are a few guidelines to ensure that we all have a great time.

Please welcome new attendees, especially the young attendees who might not find it easy to engage a more senior attendee in conversation.

We welcome and encourage diversity and different opinions and ideas, but G4G is not a political platform.

We encourage mutual respect and ask that you refrain from promoting bias and stereotypes about race, nationality, religion, gender and sexual orientation, or other personal characteristics.

If you feel uncomfortable at any time during the meeting because of unbecoming behavior, please notify Vickie Kearn (G4G board member) who will address the issues confidentially.

Thank you and enjoy the meeting.

Special Thanks To:

Program Scheduling – Bob Hearn

Evening Entertainment – Mark Mitton (Chair) & Mark Setteducati

Georgia Tech Offsite – Kristin Morales (Coordinator), George Hart (Sculpture & Activities Coordinator), Evans Harrell (Dept of Math) & Matt Baker (Offsite Magic)

The G4G Foundation would also like to acknowledge Co-Founder Mark Setteducati for his continuing vital support of the G4G movement and Nancy Blachman for what she does behind the scenes.
